What personal data is collected and how it is used

Natural England is carrying out a consultation on the Earned Recognition pilot project in bat mitigation licensing to help it deliver its work. As part of this, we may collect the following kinds of information:

- Your name and contact details, to enable us to contact you about the pilot project and enable you to sign up for a role in the pilot project
- Your opinions on Earned Recognition in bat mitigation licensing
- Personal information such as your role, regional location, and level of experience in bat mitigation work

Your personal data will be used to enable us to contact you about the pilot project.

Your opinions on Earned Recognition in bat mitigation licensing will be used in the development of the pilot project. It will be used to inform the development or evaluation of a new system of bat mitigation licensing based on the principle of Earned Recognition.

The legal basis for processing your personal data

Processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest which is laid down by law, ie Sections 1 and 2 of the Natural Environment and Rural Communities Act 2006 Act. This sets out Natural England's general purposes. The task is to ensure that the natural environment is conserved, enhanced and managed for the benefit of present and future generations, thereby contributing to sustainable development. Specifically to promote nature conservation and protect biodiversity and contributing in other ways to social and economic well-being through management of the natural environment.

Consent to process your personal data

The processing of your data is not based on consent. You cannot withdraw it. However, you can withdraw from the pilot at any time by contacting us at earnedrecognition.bat@naturalengland.org.uk.

Who Natural England shares your personal data with

Natural England may share your information with other partner organisations in the Earned Recognition pilot project. These are:

- Bat Conservation Trust (BCT) – to allow BCT to analyse the data and report on the information collected
- Chartered Institute of Ecology and Environmental Management (CIEEM) – to allow CIEEM to contribute to the next stages of the project

Natural England respects your personal privacy when responding to access to information requests. We only share information when necessary to meet the statutory requirements of the Environmental Information Regulations 2004 and the Freedom of Information Act 2000.

How long Natural England holds personal data

Natural England, BCT and CIEEM will keep your personal data for 2 years after the end of the pilot project, due in June 2022.

What happens if you do not provide the data requested

If you do not provide the data:

- Natural England, BCT and CIEEM will not be able to email you about the project or invite you to take part in workshops, consultations or the pilot project
